Will Not Call Extra Session—Does Not Believe in Prohibition For the Cities.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 19.—In a letter addressed to Rev. Leonard W. Doolan, Chairman of the Anti-Saloon League Petition Committee, Governor Willson yesterday afternoon set the seal upon his determination not to convene the legislature in extra session for the purpose of passing a uniform county unit bill.

Although refusing to convene the General Assembly in extraordinary session he promises to bring the question of more temperance legislation to the attention of the next regular body.

The Governor goes over the situation very thoroughly and expresses himself fully on the subject in his letter to the Rev. Mr. Doolan.

GREEKS START ON WARPATH

But One Man Armed With Shotgun Put Them to Flight—More Trouble Feared.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., March 19.—"Damn 'Merica; damn 'Merica!" Fleeing for dear life, his face literally riddled by a charge of bird shot and at every jump yelling "Damn 'Merica," Joan Lirys, a Greek laborer on the Columbia Gas and Electric Company's pipe line a few miles south of this city, rushed into Camp No. 2, followed by 50 or 60 Greeks, who dropped shovel and pick and ran before John Johnson, an American, who was pumping lead into their midst from a repeating shotgun. The battle occurred yesterday, and three Greeks were left upon the field dangerously wounded—one, at least, mortally.

A dispute arose over a hammer, when the foreigners attacked Johnson, who after a very narrow escape from being beaten to death with shovels and picks, made his escape and ran to a dwelling near by. He was hotly pursued by the foreigners, but procured a repeating shotgun and met them, shooting as he came. Four men fell, but the one who was shot in the face arose and ran with the uninjured ones a mile to their camp. Friends of Johnson armed themselves and acted as his bodyguard all afternoon. It is feared the Greeks will return, in which case a bloody battle is expected.

BLACK BASS FOR COUNTY

Government Will Send Supply at Request of the Fish and Game Club.

The Clark County Fish and Game Club in stocking its own waters with fish has been a potent agency in stocking Kentucky River. Each year the club gets fish from every source that it can and spends hundreds of dollars in the work. Each year a limited supply is gotten from the Government Fish Commission, and this year will not be an exception as shown by the letter below, addressed to the President of the club. There would be no necessity for restocking but for the fact that a large part of the fish go out over the dams during high water.

Washington, March 17, 1909.
Sir:—Your application for fish has been received, and from your description of the waters it is believed that black bass will be most desirable. Accordingly there has been made an assignment of this species, the distribution of which occurs between April and November. You will be advised in advance of the proposed date of shipment and given other essential particulars. The bureau undertakes to furnish a sufficient number of fish to serve as brood stock only, and it is expected that proper protection will be afforded them until they have had time to reproduce.

Respectfully,
GEO. M. BORRIS,
Commissioner.

See Some of Their Descendants.
Now and then as we plod along the way we see the kindly faces of some of their descendants, but change is written every where, and the mute markers that adorn your city of the dead tell me that they have crossed the river. It is good and exceedingly pleasant to revisit again the scenes of our earlier years, and to clasp hands with dear friends we have not seen for years. No man of woman born loves with more sincere gratitude and fondness the dear good people of Clark county, or wishes more success for Winchester and her people than does
Yours truly,
S. M. BOONE.

ETHEL BARRYMORE JUST MARRIED TO MILLIONAIRE, RUSSELL GRISWOLD COLT.

CAPTAIN SAM BOONE WRITES OF DAYS PAST IN CLARK COUNTY

Former Resident Revisits Winchester After An Absence Of Thirty Seven Years—Finds Many Changes In People And Conditions.

Capt. Sam Boone is in the city on a visit to his brother, Henry. Possibly no man living has in his mind so complete a knowledge of Winchester and Clark county.

In the very beginning of the Civil War, he enlisted and was made captain of Company D, First Kentucky Federal Cavalry, Woolford's regiment. He served through the war with distinction. Returning at the close of the war, he filled the following offices: Deputy County Clerk, Deputy Sheriff, City Judge and County Attorney.

Well Preserved at 73.

Capt. Boone is a well preserved man of 73 and resides at Asland, Ky. At our earnest request, Captain Boone has prepared the following for publication:

Not the Same As Long Ago.

"The Winchester of today is not the same place it was in ante-bellum days. Spreading out in all directions, it has assumed proportions that to the beholder who has been away for thirty-seven years is truly wonderful. When the writer came to make this his home in 1856, it contained a population not to exceed seven or eight hundred people, while now there must be from ten to twelve thousand. The old houses and land marks of the long ago are to be seen no more. Substantial and up-to-date improvements meet the eye in every direction, and the busy hum of industry greets the beholder at every turn. While all this is a matter to be proud of, yet there comes a tinge of sadness to be found in the fact that all the great and grand men who lived here in the garnered years are gone. Among some of these I note the names of Simpson, Bickner, Hanson, Winn, Allen, Smith, Flanagan, French, Moore, Hampton, Hood, Bush, Huston, Downey and a host of others, which space forbids mentioning here. These men present to the reader of today a galaxy of names who for sterling worth and integrity may be justly termed the peers of any living or dead.

The Building was valued at $900,000.

Only the walls are left standing. The train shed was undamaged, and the schedules of the five roads are unhampered. A railroad coach is being used as a ticket office. The rescue of a woman telephone operator from the fifth story by firemen and the great height to which the flames rose made the fire unusually spectacular.

UNION STATION LAID IN RUINS

Five Louisville Railroads Are Without a Home—Will Get New Building.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—By the destruction here at a loss of $400,000 of the Union depot, the local terminal for five of the country's chief railroads, Louisville, will probably benefit by a new Union station. This was decided by the Commercial club half an hour after the building at Seventh street and the Ohio river was a mass of smoking embers and debris.

Crossed wires in the attic of the big structure, which was erected by the Illinois Central in 1890, are charged with the responsibility for the blaze which has made an empty shell of the depot before the entire fire department of the city had arrived. Chief Clerk W. G. Roach and Superintendent Egan of the Illinois Central fell through a skylight in an effort to escape and were badly injured. All other occupants escaped unhurt.

TO MEET AT ESTILL SPRINGS

Kentucky Press Association To Have Summer Meeting at Well-Known Resort.

Estill Springs will entertain the members of the Kentucky Press Association again this year. At a meeting of the Executive Committee held in Louisville Thursday, Estill Springs was unanimously chosen as the meeting place for the association this summer. Mr. E. A. Jonas made a motion to the effect that Henderson be chosen and presented a telegram from the Commercial Club of that town, urging the editors to come there. When he saw, however, that Estill Springs was the favorite, he moved to make it unanimous. Manager Riddle, of the Springs, who was present, with much tact, began discussing spring lamb, young chickens, fresh vegetables, etc., and if there was any doubt before, the tide was quickly turned in favor of that popular resort.

By motion, the Program Committee in charge of the winter meeting was authorized to arrange the program for the summer meeting. This committee is composed of Mr. Edward Shinnick, of Shelbyville; Mr. R. W. Brown, of Louisville, and Mr. H. A. Sommers, of Elizabethtown.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the president of the association, was authorized to name delegates to the meeting of the National Editorial Association in Seattle, July 19. The dates of the summer meeting were fixed at June 29, 30 and July 1st.
